Who do I contact to help me set up, manage or answer any questions about my company profile?

Please contact a member of our directories team directly at ABM.Directories@advantagemedia.com or 973.920.7166.

Are there any reference guides on how to use this directory?

You can find a user guide in PDF format here [1].

How do I add my company?

Before you add your company please make sure that it does not already have an existing Company Profile on the Chem.Info site to avoid potential duplication. In order to add your company you have to register an account with the Chem.Info site (www.chem.info/user/register). Once you get the registration email, click on the one time authentication link, set your password and login, you will see a call out button in the right hand column that says "Don't see Your Company? Add it" (www.chem.info/node/add/company-profiles). After you enter all needed information on the form and submit, our internal team will review and you will be notified via email from chem_web@advantagemedia.com after it has been approved within 2-3 business days.

How do I find my company?

You can find your company by either browsing our company listings here and using the Alpha sort menu at the top to drill down and see if your company exists or by using the search box at the top of the right column on every page.

How do I request to manage my Company Profile?

After you navigate to the Company Profile for your company, you will see a button on the left hand side underneath your company information that says "Manage Profile". If you click this button you will receive a message telling you that your request to manage the company has been sent and you will also get an email saying as much from chem_web@advantagemedia.com. Our internal team will review your request and you will be notified via email from chem_web@advantagemedia.com after it has been approved within 2-3 business days.

How do I add products/services for my company?

Once you are an authorized manager for your company on the Chem.Info website, you will find some helpful links at the top of the right hand gutter under the heading

So this could be on a page that lists editorial content or an individual content page for things like articles, product releases, videos, etc.

Will I be able to manage my print listings?

Yes when it is time to renew your print listings for the year you will be able to log in to your account on the site, pick your print package (Basic, Silver, or Gold), whether you are running a print ad or not, and pick the product categories you want to be listed under. These can be separate from the product categories you choose to be listed under on the website. This can be anytime of the year and we recommend that you keep all company and product/service information updated.

How do I find out more information or request a quote on a product?

If you are on any product page you will see a button underneath the product description that says "Request for Information" that you can click on to initiate this. If you are not logged in and do not have a registered account on the Chem.Info website, then you will be redirected to a page to complete this registration and sent a one time email authentication link. Once you are registered and logged in you can fill out your request in the RFI text box that appears and also check off a box if you are looking for a quote. You will then get a follow up email from the site.
