

Static Mixer

For applications involving fluids with extreme viscosity or volume ratios, the most common limiting factor in static mixer design is allowable length. The Kenics® KMX Static Mixer features a patent pending design that generates superior mixing per unit length for laminar flow and high/low viscosity ratio applications. With internal elements that feature concave blade construction, the KMX creates strong cross-stream mixing and flow splitting to achieve very rapid blending.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/28/2015 - 8:33am):

http://www.chem.info/news/2006/01/static-mixer?qt-most\_popular=1