

Polyethylene Tanks and Containers

Constructed from virgin high-density crosslink or FDA-compliant linear polyethylene, corrosion- and chemical-resistant tanks and containers are used to store and transport corrosive and hazardous materials. They provide low temperature impact resistance, are U.V. stabilized, and come in wide range of capacities and colors. Custom rotational molding, accessory fittings and custom colors are available.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/30/2015 - 4:48pm):

http://www.chem.info/news/2006/02/polyethylene-tanks-and-containers?qt-most_popular=1