

Tube Failure Detection System

The patented Tube Failure Detection System for peristaltic style metering pumps will detect a wide range of chemicals and disregard pump compatible fluids. If a non compatible fluid is detected, the pump will automatically shut off and energize a relay or switch, permitting communication with external equipment, such as a back-up pump, an alarm or a SCADA System.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/29/2015 - 5:45am):

<http://www.chem.info/news/2006/04/tube-failure-detection-system>