

Pipette Calibration System

The PCSplus features automation capabilities to help reduce the risk of human error and enhance efficiency, while streamlining laboratory pipette calibration management. Given the critical need for data accuracy and precision and the consequences of malfunctioning liquid delivery devices, regular pipette calibration is mandatory, yet the shortage of trained laboratory technicians stretches resources thin. This system reduces human transcription error and speeds up calibration by relying on proprietary software, a barcode scanner and a laboratory-qualified printer.

Source URL (retrieved on 01/31/2015 - 5:58am):

http://www.chem.info/news/2006/09/pipette-calibration-system?qt-most_popular=0