

Best Bets (1398)

New Technical Catalogs

• Bell & Gossett, Morton Grove, IL, is offering a catalog on hydronic heating and plumbing products. Catalog A-50L contains descriptions, illustrations, dimensions and performance curves for circulators, flanges, pump relays, valves, air separators tanks, heat exchangers, parts and hydronic specialties.

Information: www.bellgossett.com

• Remote systems that monitor environmental conditions such as temperature, power, humidity or water on the floor are examined in a catalog from Sensaphone, Aston, PA. Advice on alarm notification systems is also given.

Information: 877-373-2700

• Polysciences Inc., Warrington, PA, has released a catalog of product and technical information for chemical industry research professionals. It lists more than 3,000 off-the-shelf products that are used by lab technicians, chemists, scientists and engineers.

Information: 800-523-2575

• The new Essentials catalog from Schneider Electric North America, Palatine, IL, features more than 4,000 Telemecanique brand automation and control products in its 328 pages. Readers can download the entire catalog or portions of it, or they can register to receive a printed or CD-ROM version.

Information: www.us.telemecanique.com/EssentialCatalog

• "The Evolution of Milling Technology" is a new brochure from Union Process, Akron, OH. It outlines the process of solving a size reduction problem including the initial analysis of the problem, the customer's size reduction requirements, testing, evaluation and recommendations for the most cost-effective milling solution.

Information: www.unionprocess.com

Source URL (retrieved on 03/06/2015 - 5:03am):

<http://www.chem.info/news/2006/10/best-bets-1398>