

Infrared Thermometers

Infrared thermometers for instantaneous non-contact temperature readings provide temperature measurement solutions for HVAC/R, plant maintenance, automotive, electrical, and food handling/preparation applications. They are ideal for applications where temperature range is a critical factor. The thermometers are available based on temperature range, distance to target ratio and fixed or adjustable emissivity.

Source URL (retrieved on 03/06/2015 - 8:47am):

<http://www.chem.info/news/2006/10/infrared-thermometers>