Expansion: CoorsTek

CoorsTek Inc., Golden, CO, a provider of industrial pump, valve, seal, and surge protection components and equipment for the energy and petrochemical industries, has expanded into the Houston, TX, area. A 30,000-square-foot facility, located at 1120 Goodnight Trail near Houston's Intercontinental Airport, will house machining, grinding, thermal spray coating, and light assembly capabilities. Services will include rapid-turn, build-to-print, and design-to-requirement components. The facility will also support local JIT delivery.
