Pulaski Co. plant shifts some operations to Miss.

The Associated Press

A maker of industrial floor absorbent and cat litter products is moving that production from southern Illinois' Pulaski County to Mississippi.

WSIL-TV (<http://bit.ly/JymeOM> ) reports that Oil-Dri Corp. of America announced the move involving its plant in Mounds this week.

Oil-Dri says as many as 40 workers in Mounds will be affected, although some employees might be considered for transfers to Mississippi.

The company says it still plans to produce its animal health and nutrition lines in Mounds.
