

InspectionXpert Announces New Distribution Partner in Europe -- K2D

The Associated Press

InspectionXpert Corporation, a leading provider of inspection reporting software, today announced that it has signed a distribution partnership contract with K2D-KeyToData GmbH, a leading provider of CAD software and digital design communication solutions.

K2D will support InspectionXpert Corporation in expanding a European reseller network to sell the InspectionXpert product line and provide service and support to customers in Europe. "K2D has done extremely well in serving InspectionXpert customers in Germany, Austria and Switzerland. We have decided to build on that success and further expand our reseller network in Europe," says Jeff Cope, President of InspectionXpert Corporation.

"We are very pleased to become distribution partner of InspectionXpert Corporation and to expand the reseller network in Europe. InspectionXpert provides AS9102 FAI and PPAP software for ballooning inspection prints and automating inspection reporting," explains, Jochen Layer, CEO of K2D. "This is critical for improving productivity and accuracy in the quality department of any company in Europe, particularly with aerospace and defense, automotive, medical device, oil and gas, and contract manufacturers."

InspectionXpert creates ballooned or stamped inspection drawings and models, imports CMM results from any CMM, and creates standard or custom inspection reports.

About K2D-KeyToData GmbHK2D-KeyToData GmbH was formed out of the merger of two viewer specialists -- the Products & Solutions segment of Infotech Enterprises GmbH and the viewer segment of DataCAD GmbH. K2D combines decades of experience, know-how and success in the CAD viewer and CAD/CAM market. With the Kubotek KeySolutions, K2D provides a range of solutions that efficiently support the user throughout the product development process -- from first drafts to collaboration with colleagues, customers and suppliers. Being a development partner of the software producer, K2D actively influences the product development for the benefit of the customers.
