

Condensate Management System (2582)

The Aquamat condensate management system uses a four stage separation process to automatically and reliably separate oil from condensate. It is designed to virtually eliminate the need for expensive disposal by outside contractors. Units do not require electricity and are low maintenance. Available in six sizes, the rugged units feature an integrated manifold system that allows several condensate lines to be attached to one Aquamat for streamlined operation.

Kaeser Compressors Inc., Fredericksburg, VA; 800-777-7873;

www.kaeser.com [1]

Source URL (retrieved on 12/22/2013 - 5:46am):

http://www.chem.info/product-releases/2007/07/condensate-management-system-2582?qt-recent\_content=0

Links:

[1] <http://www.kaeser.com>