

Sensors With Patented Polymer

Booth 1619

InPro 4260 Series pH sensors feature a patented polymer, the Xerolyt Extra, to provide high accuracy with extreme longevity under demanding situations. The electrode design includes an open junction, which solves the problem of diaphragm fouling that is often found in applications with sticky media and solutions with high-particle content or when sulfide-bearing solutions are present.

Mettler Toledo Ingold, Bedford, MA; 781-301-8808; www.mt.com/pro

Source URL (retrieved on 01/27/2015 - 3:28pm):

<http://www.chem.info/product-releases/2007/09/sensors-patented-polymer>