

Full (Solar-Generated) Steam Ahead (6032)

Victory Energy recently launched its SolorGen® Series boiler—the first industrial/utility boiler to harness the clean, renewable and radiant energy of the sun to produce superheated steam at typical utility pressures and temperatures. According to the company, its new concentrated solar power technology offers an efficient, yet cost-competitive alternative to fossil fuel-derived energy, making it the ideal renewable source of steam generation with:

|