

A Free Thermal-Imaging Rental Program

Wahl Instruments Inc. announces the launch of its free rental program for z30 and z50 series Heat Spy thermal imaging cameras. According to the company:

- This program makes it easier than ever for companies to try out a thermal imager
- Heat Spy units come pre-configured and ready to use straight out of the box.
- Users can test units for up to seven days at no charge — shipping fees are they pay.
- Wide Angle or Telephoto lenses can be added to the free rental for a nominal fee.
